

Message from the President

The curling season is in full swing, and I hope everyone is having a fun season.

New signage

By now, you probably have noticed some new signage on the exterior of the curling club, which includes a large colorful curling house (with stones) and "UTICA CURLING" in bold lettering. Many thanks to member Peggy Roan and Vice President Bob Risley for advancing and supporting this effort.

Lighting

Speaking of exterior improvements, the board of directors approved the installation of additional exterior LED lighting to help illuminate the parking lot on both the northeast and southeast sides of the building. These lights are really bright! Members Joyce Shaer and John Collea collaborated on this effort, which should make our parking lot safer.

Custom Apparel

It is with regret that I report that longtime member Liz Nolan will be stepping down as the official embroiderer for the Utica Curling Club. Liz's creations have graced Utica Curling Club members for the last decade, and her gorgeous work and generosity as a sponsor will be greatly missed. I am pleased to announce that board member Jennifer Turner has arranged for Cintas to be the new provider for your personalized apparel and Utica Curling Club accessories available at the Phoenix Pro Shop. Carol Jones will serve as the local sales representative for Cintas. Orders can be taken by any of the Phoenix Pro Shop volunteers: Jen Turner, Vicki Sheardown, or Dawn Scherer. You can view available products, colors, sizes, and prices at GKdirect.com. There is also a printed catalog and thread color chart available for review at the Phoenix Pro Shop. Please allow 2-3 weeks for orders to be delivered. Of course, you can also purchase replacement brush heads, stopwatches, grippers, scarves, coolers, gym bags and other items from the Pro Shop inventory. To receive custom embroidered items by Christmas, please submit your orders by the end of November.

Please support your club by purchasing supplies from the Phoenix Pro Shop. The holiday season is a good time for new curlers to consider purchasing gripper-sliders or curling shoes. (The latter will really help you improve your game.) Curling with step-on sliders during league play is discouraged, as wayward sliders are extremely hazardous to unsuspecting players on neighboring sheets, and can cause serious injury. Step-on sliders are primarily intended for supervised instruction or special events only. If you don't know what to buy or where to order, consult with any of our instructors, or contact us at curling-school@ucacurlingclub.org for advice.

Lightbox

I'd like to thank former long-time member and current Plate Glass member Marn Balzer of Port Charloe, Florida, for the donation of a beautiful stained glass lightbox sporting the Uca Curling Club logo. This illuminated artwork hangs next to the bar and is a nice bit of ambience to the warm room.

Practice

New members (and some old members, too) have inquired about available practice times. The ice crew has posted throughout the club available times when the club is open and the ice is properly prepared for play. Briefly, there is available practice ice most evenings Monday-Wednesday, and Friday. Depending on the attendance of Curling School and College curling, there may be available ice from 3:30-5:00 Sundays. If you wish to practice during this time, please be aware that it may not be possible to accommodate you. For your safety, please observe our policy of not practicing alone at the club. When practicing, please be considerate of games on neighboring sheets, and protect the far hacks from flying rocks. It would be much appreciated if you mop the sheet when you are finished. You can also arrange for private instruction by sending an email to curlingschool@ucacurlingclub.org.

Upcoming events

The rest of the season is chock full of locally-hosted bonspiel events, starting with the Six-Sheet Open December 8-10. There is the men's championship (Murray Bonspiel) in December, and in January, the members-only Calder-Conley-Hurd mixed bonspiel. January rounds out with the Mitchell Bonspiel (men's invitational), Empire State Bonspiel (women's invitational) and the club Mixed Championship. And in early February, the Kayser Mixed Bonspiel for curlers with 5 or fewer years' experience will be held at our club. If you are a new curler, this is a chance for you to put in a team and compete against other new curlers in an event where you will make life-long curling friends. Don't miss it! All this is just through the first of February. There are still more events right through March 2018. Check out the Uca Curling Club Web site for bonspiel details and dates.

Good curling,

Roger Rowle
President

2017 "Upstate" Charity Invitational

Saturday, November 11 featured a "full house" as SUNY Upstate Medical University brought in 48 novice curlers and filled up all six sheets. The Veterans Day event was held to introduce everyone to the great sport of curling and to raise money for the "Kids with Cancer" Fund at their very own SUNY Cancer Center in Syracuse.

The introduction and practice took up the late morning and then the teams marched to the ice shortly after noon. Only one person stepped over the hog line in the one-ice parade to the hoots and hollers of the others awaiting the expected purchase of an alcoholic beverage later in the day. The six match-ups fought hard through their 4 end games. 6 winners, 6 losers, but fun had by all.

Squads also had the opportunity to design their own team shirts as uniforms, and let's just say the team names and logos were as varied as the level of skill shown throughout the day. The event raised over $900 for the charity.

Each curler and guest Curling Club coach also received a small memento from the day, a custom curling rock stress ball. A nice treat to remember a nice day.

My life in Curling

A Series to Celebrate our 150th Anniversary

Peggy Roon

I've been curling since 1961. There have been many changes in curling in 56 years. Most of the "originals" were still alive when we joined. Courtesies and traditions were important and were taught along with technique. We wore skirts or ski pants and sweaters, high top shoes, no sliders, swept with corn brooms and never discussed the calls of the skip. All women curled during the day for a number of years until some arranged to curl after work. We were not allowed at the bar if the men were playing-but most of us kept a bottle in our locker as there were no bartenders during the day.

Mixed curling was very popular. There were at least 2 shops on Sat. PM. Food was served on weekends and many families curled together. Juniors curled after school and during the day on weekends if there were no bonspiels. There were a large number of teen curlers. We went to women's bonspiels in Ardsley, St. Andrew's, Boston and Canada. The Empire State Bonspiel was very popular and many friendships were made. In 1977, US Women's Nationals was formed. Our team went in 78, 80 and 82 as GNCC winners. This led to more friendships and I was asked to serve on USWCA committees. In 1986, I was fortunate to be selected to go on Scot Tour, one of 20 women from across the USA. This led to more USWCA service and I was elected USWCA President in 1993-94 and have served USWCA in one capacity or another ever since.

During this time I was also active in GNCC, serving as Rep to USCA in 1990-2002. In 1988 USCA initiated Curl America to teach instructors, officials & ice makers at local clubs. I served as National Official Course Conductor for about 16 years, teaching courses from Sea Isle to Cape Cod. In 1998, I was asked to put together the officials for the 2002 Olympics in Salt Lake and spent the next 4 years working on the program. During that time I was part of the team of the officials at the Men's, Women's & Jr. Nationals and also officiated at several World Championships. In 2002 at the World Championships, The Scots wanted to start wheelchair curling. My husband, Bill, was very interested. In 2003, he started a program and recruited a number of interested participants. About 16 local curlers worked on recruitment, training and funding the program. It was so successful that we were able to go to Canada and Scotland to participate. Bill was so proud of them and went to Italy as an assistant coach in 2006. His health declined after that and after almost 50 years of curling he was unable to continue.

As a family we have benefited so much from the sport of curling. Our only hope was that we have been able to give back as much as we have benefited

What kind of equipment should I buy to improve my game?

Shoes

There is no question that the first investment you should make as a new curler is in a pair of good curling shoes. Dedicated curling shoes will help you get a better, longer, more effortless slide that will allow you to deliver the stone more easily. We recommend that new curlers start with shoes with a teon slider with at least $5/32$ " thickness. Thicker sliders are faster than thinner sliders. It is possible to buy "beginner" shoes with thinner sliders, but we find that new curlers quickly outgrow these. If you find your shoes too fast to handle initially, apply sturdy clear packing tape or duct tape to the heel of your slider until you get more comfortable with your shoes. Most folks can remove this tape after only a few games and enjoy the full benefits of the thicker slider.

We don't recommend any particular brand—we have curled on Asham, Goldline, and Balance Plus shoes—but can give advice about which shoes fit wide or narrow feet, and are durable. As of this writing, top-of-the-line shoes like the Balance Plus 500 are going for $229. You can get more basic shoes for around $140. If you have hard-to-fit feet, you can purchase a pair of good-looking, flat-soled shoes and have Balance Plus attach grippers and sliders for around $150.

Don't forget to buy a pull-on gripper to cover your slider when sweeping, and also a spare if you curl more than once a week. Toe-coating is an option for some shoes as is recommended to get a faster slide.

Cant' afford shoes? Then consider using a gripper-slider. This will attach to your shoes like a gripper, but has a Teon slider on the bottom. You can get one for about $30. The sliders on these devices are very thin, similar to step-on sliders. Shoes are much better. No one should be curling with step-on sliders during league play, as escaping sliders are extremely hazardous to unsuspecting players on other sheets, and can cause serious injury. Step-on sliders are really intended for supervised instructional use only.

Brushes

The second item to consider purchasing is curling brush. Most competitive curlers use brush with an arcular head. There are a plethora of models to choose from. You can purchase a good quality curling broom from $70-$160. The less expensive brooms have a heavier fiberglass handle, while the most expensive have lightweight carbon fiber handles. Composite brushes fall somewhere in between. The lighter models are highly recommended. Although it doesn't seem like it would be that important, if you ever use one of the super-light carbon fiber brushes in a game, you will never want to go back to a heavier model. Handles come in two sizes and a plethora of finishes: most men purchase the 1 1/8 inch diameter handle; the 1 inch diameter handle is favored by many women and those with smaller hands. BalancePlus also makes a tapered handle that is 1 inch in diameter at the top and 1 1/8 inch in diameter at the boom. The Hardline broom is tapered in reverse. As of this writing, some of the lightest models available are the BalancePlus LiteSpeed, the Hardline, and the Goldline Air. Don't forget to order one or more additional brush heads. The Hardline brushes come with a replaceable fabric cover that is extremely waterproof and durable. These will last 1-2 years. The other model brushes have replaceable heads that will have to be changed 2-4 times a year depending on how often you curl. If you intend on curling in competitive events, you should purchase at least one brush cover that meets World Curling Federation requirements. Conforming brush heads are embossed with a special code to indicate that are certified for competitive use.

Stopwatch

As you become more experienced, you may benefit from carrying a stopwatch to the stones. (There is a whole 'nother article on Timing in Instructor's Corner about how to use a stopwatch to improve your game.) All the major curling retailers carry curling stopwatches. However, if you are over 50, or visually challenged like so many of us you might want to seek out a model with large numbers. Accusplit makes a very rugged stopwatch with a large display for about $20. I attach mine to a belt loop using a carabiner clipped to the lanyard, drawn up to the appropriate length for ease of use but not so long it drags on the ice during delivery.

If you want to know more about these topics and more, check out the Instructor's Corner archive on the Instruction Page at the Uca Curling Club web site.
